KINGDOM

 Donovan Zeanah June 15, 2022

From my Workshop endeavour, I conceptualized what I call KINGDOM. kingdom is a “Smile” system, or program. SMILE – Enterprise-Level Individual Management System.

Practitioners are meant to follow a basic, building block model that “sets-up” their Base environment. A small 10×10 room acting as the combustion chamber to someone’s life, works, learnings, accumulations, etc. A room acting as their Kingdom Center. From here, Individuals grow outwardly into what eventually is a persons own, personal, “Kingdom”, that is created for themselves.

A Kingdom Workshop is the Base function. The starting Block. Go, in Monopoly. Thats because sleep is not first, work is. shelter is not first, but the tools to manifest the shelter. Until you build a place of “bed”, your bed is your Workshop.

A typical progression might be:

Workshop -> Mobile Transportation-> Tiny Home -> Office -> Library-> Specialty buildings.

The core idea is that after a workspace is established, and a home is built, an office module is added to offload and better organize services, logging, tracking, administrative functions, etc. This forms a CRUDE-Archetecture of a beginning business. Library comes next. This houses your Data. Your Teachable lessons, your accumulation of knowledge. Your Archive and References. This acts twofold. To help you on your Kingdom adventure, and to be utilized by mentees of the practitioners desciples. As you develop more efficient work, comes more efficient business practice, comes more efficient management, comes more efficient logistics, and caps the “starter-Phase” of a practitioners KINGDOM, in that they are suitably ready and capable to maintain disciples, or young-helping-hands or otherwise people who are wanting to learn and grow under someone they find ALIKE to them.

The core model and philosophy is to forever be outgrowing current work&business practices, train employees like you will rely on them to act as yourself, acting as a subset of yourself. Helped by the Mentor, to eventually becoming their own entity and reliable business “contact”, While continuing to cycle new mentees, or routing people to your established disciples first, to then be ready to learn under yourself, etc. The system is infinitely customizable and configurable. Mentor-based training trumps all other forms, whether its: Mandatory training, online, by-book, by course, by class, by video, etc. A practitioners Library functions as all of these, in a structured manner, accessed by 2 dateways: Physically, and Digitally, and incorporates skill/learning tracking/logging/stats of a person or disciple. It fuses all the string methods of learning into one. From that one, “skill-tracking” is implemented as a persons STATS. (Certify-able by a senior practitioners, the GLOBAL governing councils skill-leisions, and uploaded documentation. aka. video proof.)

This substitutes a learning platform, a resume platform, a job recruiter platform, a tracking platform, a training platform, and otherwise all professional development functions into one cohesive body, under a more experienced and qualified ‘Mentor’. This allows:

- rapid-training

- infinitely continuous growing of people

- creation of many, and vast, peer-to-peer networks

- utilization of hand-me-down equipment’s and toolings, with a focus on passing tools to new training disciples, so that they may grow their own reputation and self-sufficiency.

- “Just-in-Time” data entry, tracking, logging.

-a live-in-real-time: resume and portfolio, history and timeline saver, real-time-work referencing and delegating.

Here, kingdom goes from being a stat tracking programming, or ‘game’ to be played for fun, to a professional development program, to a Timeline and History Archive, Portfolio, and otherwise real-time-individual-intelligence-system, comprised of data accumulated over time and in one cohesive body, that can be used to project, simulate, compare, or otherwise run experimentation and provide features that one can use to conduct an analysis of short-term decisions, Long-term decisions, Snap-decisions, or otherwise a best-case-scenario-chooser TOOL, that practitioners utilize constantly and throughout a lifetime, growing more and more potent with time, or each new entry of data gained.

Thats why I cannot elevator pitch KINGDOM no matter how hard I try to condense its Concept.

Is it uber for artists and trades people? Is it linkedinlearning for skill tradesmen? Is it a game to be played by 11 year olds, or a system to be used by seasoned, professional and established businessmen? Is it craigslist on steroids? How about a digital marketplace substitute?

Is it a live-resume, or is it a ‘facebook-timeline-and memory’ novelty. Is it a mass technology, or is it individual scoped?

Simply put, It is the Reverse Meta-Verse. a KD-verse is: made by each and every individual spanning from the common Hobbo to a Jeff-Bezos level CEO. Custom-tailored, individually suited, self-established governance and business practicing. A hyper-connected Data information highway, that connects MANY to MANY individuals, forms deeper interactions, all while lessening formalities, time-wasting activities and practices, and even by spending less and less time “digitally” or manually maintaining relationships, interacting, networking , and essentially the Spaghetti-ness of traditional goods and services exchanges, wether digital or physical.
